Points of interest	Nafplion was formerly the capital of Greece. Arriving at Nafplion one will experience the majestic view of the three castles – the symbols of the city – Palamidi, Bourtzi and Akronafplia.
Akronafplia	Akronafplia is the oldest of Nafplion’s three castles. Although sections of the walls date back to Mycenaean times, the fortress that stands today was begun in the 3rd century BC with the construction of a defensive wall to protect a settlement at the western end of the Akronafplia, where the legendary Nafplia Palace Hotel & Villas is now located.
Palamidi castle	Accessible either on foot up its 999 steps or by car in 5 minutes.
Bourtzi isle	The landmark of Nafplion stands in the harbour. A tiny island fortress built in 1471 accessible by boat (5 minutes from hotel).
Museums	The museums of Nafplion are all within walking distance from the hotel. Including the Archaeological, Naval and Folklore.
World Heritage Sites	Three World Heritage sites are nearby: The archaeological sites of Mycenae and Tiryns, where the Palace of Agamemnon lies (15 minutes drive) Epidauros Theatre is the biggest and the best preserved ancient amphitheatre. During the Summer Festival the theatre hosts performances of ancient Greek drama. (25 minutes drive) Ancient Olympia The birthplace of the Olympic Games (2.5 hour drive).
other excursions	Excursions to nearby islands: Hydra, Spetses, the Monemvasia castle and professional rafting, trekking and skiing tours.
vineyards & estates	Between the mountain ridges of the Peloponnese are narrow valleys, such as the region of Nemea which are World-famous for its citrus fruits, olive oil, olives and for its wines.
